About this Release
Community pharmacists, dispensing doctors and appliance suppliers are contracted by NHSScotland to provide dispensing services to the population of Scotland. These ‘dispensing contractors’ must ensure that they have medicines, dressings and appliances available to dispense to someone arriving with a prescription. To do this, they purchase these products in advance. Dispensing contractors are paid in two different ways: for the services they provide (remuneration) and for the products they dispense (reimbursement). This publication from the Information Services Division reports on the payments they receive.

- Both the gross ingredient cost (GIC) and net ingredient cost (NIC) of items increased between the first six months of 2014/15 and the first six months of 2015/16. The GIC increased by 7.7% and the NIC increased by 7.0%.
Background

The cost per item is calculated by dividing the gross ingredient cost by the number of prescription items. The gross ingredient cost (GIC) is the cost of drugs and appliances reimbursed before deduction of any dispenser discount. The net ingredient cost (NIC) is the cost of drugs and appliances reimbursed after deduction of any dispenser discount.

This report does not include information on prescriptions dispensed within hospitals but does include information on prescriptions written in hospitals that were dispensed in the community.

The information in this publication is taken from data gathered by Practitioner Services, part of NHS National Services Scotland. Payments to dispensing contractors are made by Practitioner Services on behalf of NHS Boards.
