Prescribing Practice and Dispensing Pharmacy data

Data for 2016, 2017 and 2018

An Official Statistics statistical release for Scotland

Publication date: 09 April 2019

About this release

The Information Services Division has released data on prescribing activity in the community in an open data format. This information release makes these data available in response to information requests on prescribing and subsequent dispensing of prescriptions.

Find out more

Open Data files enable independent analysis of prescribing and dispensing activity in the community. Information is shown for each prescribing practice and prescriber type and the number of those items dispensed at different community pharmacies. This can be used in a range of ways including to analyse prescribing and dispensing patterns by geography.

Further information is available from the Prescribing webpages.
