Overall trends

Figure 1 below shows the whole time equivalent number of Clinical and other Applied Psychology staff from September 2001 to September 2011. The number (whole time equivalent) of Clinical and other Applied Psychologists has been rising steadily over this time period reflecting the successful expansion of the NES commissioned Doctorate in Clinical Psychology course and high retention rate of course graduates within NHSScotland Psychology Services.

Figure 1: wte of all Clinical & Other Applied Psychologists in NHSScotland, as at census dates 30th September 2001 - 30th September 2011.

Between 30th September 2010 and 30th September 2011, the following changes can be seen in the data:

- In total there were 744 (629.8 wte) Clinical & Other Applied Psychologists employed in NHSScotland as at 30th September 2011. This is a increase of 1.7% Clinical & Other Applied Psychologists compared to 30th September 2010.

- It should be noted that the overall headcount for Clinical Psychologists has stayed the same since 31st March 2011, but the whole time equivalent has decreased since March by 1.2wte. This suggests staff are working slightly less hours.

Additional Information

- Between 30th September 2010 and 30th September 2011, NHS Grampian had a reduction of 3.2wte of 'Other Clinical Staff'; this was mainly due to fixed term contracts coming to an end.

- NHS Greater Glasgow & Clyde (GG&C) CAMHS Psychology staffing figures have decreased between 31st March 2011 and 30th September 2011 (from 67.6wte to 54.9wte). As at 30th September 2011, there were 13.6 wte Psychology vacancies in NHS GG&C CAMHS, the details of which are shown in Table 10 of the CAMHS excel tables(Characteristics of the CAMHS Workforce in NHS Scotland/). The gap between reduction in staffing numbers and recruitment has been due to NHS GG&C CAMHS service redesign based on a Resource Allocation Model. This redesign is to ensure a greater consistency in services across all GG&C postcodes and to have an equitable distribution of staff across the NHS Board area. The redesign is not yet complete, but as at 30th September 2011 there was increased recruitment activity anticipated to be reflected in the workforce figures in subsequent quarters (data as at 31st December 2011).
- Additional investment has occurred in NHS Lanarkshire Psychological Therapies Teams on the back of a significant restructure of psychology services. Between September 2011 and January 2012, it is anticipated that around 20wte staff will be recruited in the following staff groups: counsellors, clinical associates in applied psychology (CAAPs) and Clinical&Applied Psychologists. A proportion of these will be fixed term. The 20wte are for adult mental health, with old age and forensic services also anticipating new appointments.

A1 – Background Information

Within NHSScotland, recent years have seen an unparalleled demand for increased access to Applied Psychologists and Psychological Therapies. A demand from both patients and professionals which has arisen due to the ever increasing evidence base for psychological interventions and an awareness of the limitations of more traditional approaches to healthcare. Healthcare policy has endorsed this shift towards a greater emphasis on psychologically based approaches e.g. Better Health, Better Care; Delivering for Mental Health; Towards a Mentally Flourishing Scotland.

Contemporary Healthcare Policy recognises the importance of Psychological and Psychosocial factors for physical and mental health and well being across the life span. Government objectives for health improvement require change in what people (i.e. the public, service users and service providers), individually and collectively, think, feel and do about health and healthcare in Scotland. Psychology offers a scientific basis for understanding, and practical skills for influencing, how people think, feel and behave, with specific reference to physical health and mental well being. There is a strong evidence base, recognised in Scottish Intercollegiate Guidelines Network (SIGN) and National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) guidelines for the effectiveness of psychological interventions in delivering positive health change for a wide range of clinical conditions.

NES has responsibility for the pre-registration training of Clinical Psychologists for NHSScotland i.e. the main source of psychology services workforce supply. The impact of expansion and modernisation of psychology training is accruing as successive cohorts of those who have completed the Doctorate in Clinical Psychology, and the new Masters programmes in Psychological Therapy in Primary Care, and in Applied Psychology of Children & Young People enter the workforce.

Educational Level	Training	Competences
Doctoral	Clinical Psychology	Breadth and depth of psychological knowledge and skill. Multiple theoretical models across lifespan in mental and physical health, disability and systemic domains, consultancy, training supervision and independent research.

A3 – Early Access details (including Pre-Release Access)

Pre-Release Access

Under terms of the "Pre-Release Access to Official Statistics (Scotland) Order 2008", ISD are obliged to publish information on those receiving Pre-Release Access ("Pre-Release Access" refers to statistics in their final form prior to publication). The standard maximum Pre-Release Access is five working days. Shown below are details of those receiving standard Pre-Release Access and, separately, those receiving extended Pre-Release Access.

Standard Pre-Release Access:

Scottish Government Health Department
NHS Board Chief Executives
NHS Board Communication leads

Extended Pre-Release Access

Extended Pre-Release Access of 8 working days is given to a small number of named individuals in the Scottish Government Health Department (Analytical Services Division). This Pre-Release Access is for the sole purpose of enabling that department to gain an understanding of the statistics prior to briefing others in Scottish Government (during the period of standard Pre-Release Access).
